

In the Specification:

Please make the following corrections in the following specification paragraph:

Page 7, lines 9 to 13:

A² Scanned values from the previous or past pictures are used according to the invention in order to reconstruct the actual intervening values based-abased on these prerequisites or assumptions. The filter can thus correctly predict the picture signal including the aliasing. It reduces the prediction error and ~~increases~~ increases the coding efficiency.